

SOCIETY

THE question of entertaining and economy are two very serious problems today, and like all other conditions that are new to us, a form of hysteria is an often met condition. President Wilson has especially asked us to go on and live our lives normally, entertaining as we always have, with all extravagance left out. Many forms of economy are pitiable, so comforted are the minds of our foremost and most prominent women in both social and civic life just this on a recent visit to the mainland. In talking to a friend whose wealth is numbered in six figures this lady said: "Oh, I have let my manicure go, as I have my head massage and facial massage, and I save such a lot." The Honolulu woman looked at her and said, "Well, if you take my advice you will simply have two of each a week in place of one. Do you realize that in letting up on these three things you are depriving a working girl of her livelihood, and with the high cost of everything how can you conscientiously stop having such things done?" A look of utter amazement was a silent reply, and finally, "I never thought of that side of it," and that sentence is becoming almost stereotyped, for people do not think. Deprive yourself of the things that only hurt you personally and not the man or woman who only has what their physical and mental ability brings them.

The San Francisco woman's economy is a form of hysteria, and the sooner we wake up and be sane the better. How are shops to keep help employed if we stop buying, and the same holds good of entertaining. One hears the remark eternally, "Oh, yes, we entertain very simply and very informally, but it is awful to do so just now." Pray, why just now? We here in fair and peaceful Hawaii have everything to be grateful and happy for, and it should be our business in life to try and lighten the burden of those who have given sons and brothers for this great war.

Far be it from the writer to urge any extravagance, but go on with your every-day life as our President urges us to, have our friends in to tea, lunch or dinner; keep the hearth fire burning. There is no lack of wealth here, as every one knows. Do all the things you are asked to do, and do them with a smile and a willingness until it hurts. Of course, it will hurt some people very early in the game. One wishes that the croakers might be stirred to real patriotism where people do or die.

The food conservation committee here is doing a wonderful work, and more will be done by them. The Woman's War Council has determined to stand by the conservation of food committee and act as a unit with them in their effort to be helpful. Much has been said about the entertainment of the enlisted men and that it was an extravagance to use so much food when we are being urged to be careful. Well, there is simply this much about it. There is no class of enlisted men in the whole world that is fed as are fed the boys belonging to Uncle Sam. They have the best in the land, as any one may know who has ever been on a warship at meal time. One marvels at the excellence of the food, and our Jackies and our Sammies are not in need of food. All they want is a little friendly intercourse with town folk. As for feeding them, the simplest refreshments are all that is needed. If sandwiches are served do not cut the good, nutritious crust off, leave it on, it is healthful. Fruit punch is another inexpensive refreshment. One could write indefinitely of the many inexpensive ways of giving and having pleasure, and the women of Honolulu must get down to a sane and normal way of living, and doing random talk or guesses will never get us any place.

JUVENILE BIRTHDAY PARTY
Katharine Tower Warren the elder of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Warren's little daughters, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary on October 15, and today entertained 50 little friends in honor of the event at the home of her parents on Wewala and Lunalilo streets. Halloween suggested the motif for the affair, and black cats, old witches riding brooms, grinning pumpkins, black cats, bats, and other grotesque reminders of the coming festival were much in evidence. Two sepulchral looking old witches attired in ghostly raiment with peaked caps upon their heads and brooms in their arms, kept sentinel guard at the entrance.

A big black cat took the place of the festive donkey and 50 unattached tails were distributed among the youngsters to be pinched in place with the handicap of a blindfold. Halloween trinkets were given as prizes to those showing the greatest proficiency in the game. Later ice cream and cake were served, each child being given a gay colored masquerade as a table favor. The two birthday cakes, twinkling with candles, held tiny silver trinkets—the heart, wishbone, ring, tumbler and button, and much merriment ensued as the cakes were cut and the small guests discovered their prophetic trophies. The little guests included Newton and Vallyrie Campbell, Betty and Tacks Waldron, Carolyn Shepherd, Helen Judd, Alice Cooke, Torrance and Martha Chandler, Elizabeth Lewis, Eleanor Dillingham, Adrienne Balch, Helen Pentland, Dorothy Erdman, Polly Richards, Ballard Atherton, Bernice Belser, Stuart Judd, Barbara Helser, Richard Pond, Buster Andrews, Frances Ferris, Charlotte Harrison, Allen and Howard Moore, Frances Hurd, Florence and Mary Lister, Corrella MacIntyre, Dean Rowland, Guilem Adams, Bobby McLean, Robert Farmer, Dick Walker, Janet Bell, Helen Dahl, Dreen Bicknell, Walter Engle, Josephine Marquez, Irma Linnemann, Ruth Curry, Katherine Forbes, Richard Frazier, Florence Horner, Ruth Baker of Kona.

Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee (left), authoress of the play "About Women," to be staged in December by the Footlights club, and Mrs. Denise Mahan Beall, who will interpret the principal feminine role.

Isabel Dodge of Walluku, and Marion Warren.

Misses Winifred Warren, Charlotte McLean and Bell assisted the small hostess in entertaining her little guests, while Mrs. Warren was assisted by Mrs. P. G. Heiser, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Chandler, Mrs. Mrs. R. G. Moore, Miss Hazel Hoffman and Miss Martha Bergerson.

A BIRTHDAY AT WAIKIKI

Little Gilmore Curtz Shingle celebrated his year old birthday by having his little friends in to enjoy ice cream and cake with him. The little folk were Muriel and Brother Campbell, Newton Campbell, Valkyrie Campbell, Aca Purdy, Amelia Purdy, Betty Rawlins, Alice Macfarlane, Sallie Macfarlane, Kala Macfarlane, Ku Macfarlane, Stella Lucas and Billy Lucas. A poi luncheon was also given to celebrate the boy's natal day and those enjoying it were Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas, who are living in the Shingle home in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Shingle on the mainland; Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Major and Mrs. William C. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. William Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Miss McKenzie, Captain Peterson, Mr. Allan Herbert and Mr. Lord.

A TEA AT THE OUTRIGGER

A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed at the Outrigger Club on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Andrew Fuller being the hostess. Bathing was enjoyed then a friendly cup of tea made a pleasant entertainment. Those enjoying this informal affair were Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. Albert Horner, Mrs. Blanding, Mrs. Laura Wight, Miss Margaret McIntyre, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Helen Alexander and Miss Kate McIntyre.

MRS. GUSTAV SCHAEFER'S INFORMAL TEA

Mrs. Gustav Schaefer was an informal hostess on Thursday afternoon at a small tea in honor of Miss Pauline Schaefer at Schofield, where Capt. and Mrs. Schaefer are now domiciled. Those enjoying this pleasantly informal affair were Mrs. Geo. Ahlborn, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Jr., Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Marjorie Capps, Miss Ruth Soper, and the hostess and honor guest.

MRS. A. COUSENS ENTERTAINS

Last Tuesday Mrs. A. Cousens was a luncheon hostess complimenting Mrs. Blanche Soper. A basket of field flowers made a pretty centerpiece. Mrs. Cousens' guests were Mrs. Fred Lauke, Miss Whitehouse, Mrs. Pugsley, Mrs. R. Hind, Mrs. Winkley and Miss Josephine Soper. Knitting was the after luncheon diversion.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. WALDRON'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waldron gave a very informal dinner on Tuesday evening, complimenting Miss Blanche Soper and Mr. Walter Rycroft, whose wedding takes place on the evening of November 5 at St. Clement's church. A basket filled with old-fashioned flowers artistically grouped made a pretty centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron's guests were Miss Blanche Soper, Mr. Walter Rycroft and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Schaefer, Jr. After dinner music and social chat made a delightful evening.

MISS JANE WINNE HONORS MISS BLANCHE SOPER

Miss Jane Winne was hostess at a very informal and delightful tea on Monday afternoon, honoring Miss Blanche Soper, whose wedding to Mr. Walter Rycroft will be the social event on the evening of November 5. Those invited by Mrs. Winne to honor Miss Soper were: Miss Nora Sturgeon, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. William C. Campbell and Mrs. John W. Waldron.

PUNAHOU FACULTY MUSICALS

The first faculty musicals of this season offered by the Punahou school of music, in Charles R. Bishop hall last evening was a delightful success. The program was rendered by Miss Blanche Soper, pianist, and Mr. Edwin Herbert Ideler, violinist. Mr.

Ideler was accompanied on the piano by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Sutherland Ideler, who always charms Honolulu audiences with her style of accompaniment.

Charles R. Bishop hall was filled. The audience was enthusiastic and repeatedly showed its pleasure in the numbers. Miss Way, a new artist in Honolulu, played beautifully. She has greatest facility and ease together with a reassuring exactness of fingering that satisfies.

She appeared in two composite numbers, the first of modern French, the latter of Chopin. Although the new idea of Debussy is yet strange to most music lovers, Miss Way greatly increased the appreciation of and interest in her numbers by short introductions. Then her excellent interpretation and rendering of the numbers charmed all.

Mr. Ideler appeared at more than his usual advantage. His purity of tone and animated rendering of the big "concerto" was the best that he has done in many a day. It showed that Mr. Ideler is just as excellent in the biggest selections as he is charming in the little melodious and songful songs. He has not appeared in recital for some time and last night his playing was a real treat.

The program was:

1. Piano. Impromptu Faurl
2. Violin. Sunken Cathedral De Busy
3. Piano. Waltz Gale Saint Saens
4. Violin. Concerto Vieux Temps
5. Piano. Etudes Chopin
6. Violin. Fantasia Impromptu.
7. Violin. Vionness Melody Kreisler
8. Piano. Dance of Sylphs Tenkinson
9. Violin. Oberass Wieniawski

CIRCLE'S REUNION

A reunion of the 16 neighborhood circles connected with the Women's Society of Central Union church took place Thursday afternoon at the parish house when the first meeting of the autumn was held, and many women spent a pleasant afternoon over their needlework. Some did Red Cross work and some individual circle work. Mrs. Benner, president of the Women's Society, spoke during the afternoon. It seemed to be the desire of the majority of those present to suspend the individual circle meetings at private homes until after the holidays, so it was voted to spend the third Thursday afternoon of each month working together at the parish house.

HONOLULU MEN ENTERTAINED IN BROOKLINE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett (Greville Langton) entertained Honolulu men in Brookline just recently. It was a happy affair with Honolulu the center of conversation. Those who enjoyed this affair were Lieutenant and Mrs. Austin (Hanna Wadman), Mrs. George Lake (Helen North), Mr. Alan Lowrey and Mr. Stanley Kennedy and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett. Captain Lake is somewhere on the other side doing his bit for his country.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE CARTWRIGHT, JR.'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr. were host and hostess at a very charming dinner on Tuesday evening prior to their dance. A basket of lovely American Beauty roses graced the center of the pretty table and those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Purvis, James and Mrs. William B. Lymer, Miss Sylvan Purvis, Mr. Robert Purvis, Mr. Ned Steele and Mr. Lew Henderson.

THE SOCIAL BABY SHOW

The opening last Thursday at the Baby Show was like an afternoon tea, for society turned out in large numbers to inspect and purchase the garments and handsome lingerie so temptingly displayed. A real live baby tossed about in its cradle arm blinked at an unknown world, wondering why so many laughed and talked at it. This show will fill a long needed want here and the mothers of the wee nifties are rejoicing in the labor it is going to save them.
